carbon nation

a climate change solutions movie

[that doesn't even care if you believe in climate change]

"Excellent." The Los Angeles Times

"Save Big Bucks, Help The Planet." Bloomberg

"Entertaining ... endearing ... and exceptional." The Huffington Post

"Thought-provoking and inspirational." The Austin Chronicle

"Lively and Fun." The Seattle Times

Carbon Nation is an optimistic, solutions-based, non-preachy, non-partisan, big tent film that shows tackling climate change boosts the economy, increases national & energy security and promotes health & a clean environment.

Public opinion is sliding the wrong way - far fewer people are concerned about climate change than even a year ago.

Carbon Nation was made to give an entertaining, informed and pragmatic primer about why it's incredibly smart to be a part of the new, low-carbon economy. Even if you doubt the severity of the impact of climate change or just don't buy it at all, this is a compelling and relevant film that illustrates how solutions to climate change also address other social, economic and national security issues.

We meet a host of entertaining and endearing characters along the way, including entrepreneurs, visionaries, scientists and the everyday man, all making a difference and working towards solving climate change. We already have the technology to combat most of the worst-case scenarios of climate change, and it makes business sense too.

Carbon Nation's pioneering optimism and pragmatism are appealing across the political spectrum, and while other good films have been about problems, blame and guilt, Carbon Nation is a film that celebrates solutions, inspiration and action.
